WORSHIP WITH US EACH SUNDAY

Throughout the coronavirus shutdown we're worshipping together online! The pastoral team is videotaping a different inspiring message each week. You'll find it on our website: www.lcpc.net. Tell a friend!

Easter in the Time of Coronavirus

Dear friends,
The virus is jumping our firewalls. Millions have been laid off and are spending down their savings. Equity markets are sinking. Most kids have just begun a five-month spring/summer break (... okay, if you're a child, maybe the news isn't all bad). Isn't it time for us to panic?

There's a long section in Jesus's Sermon on the Mount about worrying and why we shouldn't do it. The Lord offers one insight in particular that's deeply relevant for us today. It comes at the end. It's the punchline that sums up his teaching:

Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has trouble enough of its own. (Matthew 6:14)

For a long time I thought Jesus was just reminding us of something we already know: that worry does no good – that no amount of worry can change our circumstances. It wasn't until I crossed the line into middle age that I began to understand the deeper message. The Lord is revealing something vitally important about us – about our nature and character as humans. God created us to handle only one day's worth of trouble. The rest we have to give over to him.

That squares well with what I've observed all my life. Within the scope of 24 hours, there's almost no limit to the amount of trouble we humans can endure. More than that, our ability to work, learn, build, plan and problem-solve over the course of a day is amazing. That's doubly true when we're up against a deadline, or when something really big (like our life) is at stake.

But here's the key point: all bets are off when we drag tomorrow's trouble into today – and we do it day after day after day. Though we might not realize it for months, years or even decades, when we worry about tomorrow we're diminished in all kinds of ways. Our work becomes burdensome. Our outlook becomes dark. Fatigue sets in. We have trouble sleeping. We become more susceptible to a range of health problems: headaches, ulcers, back pain, bronchitis, high blood pressure, even cancer. We wear the stress on our face. Worse still, all of this suffering impacts our relationships. When times are hard we want to love and support our family, friends and co-workers. Instead, we find ourselves becoming impatient, moody and disconnected. What's the remedy? The world offers a smorgasbord of choices: psychotherapy, anti-depressants, binge-watching, power walking, shopping, cruising to Cabo (well... maybe not this month), sleeping pills, Yoga, cat videos, Scrabble. Though some of these coping strategies can help – my favorite is the late afternoon nap – none qualifies as a remedy.

The only remedy, Jesus tells us, is faith. If we want to conquer worry – and if we value our physical, emotional and spiritual health – we have to hand tomorrow's troubles over to God and trust him to make things come out right.

We're all being tested. A microscopic virus has turned our world upside down, and now we have to decide: Am I going to live by fear or by faith? When I wake up in the morning am I going to turn on my phone or TV, drink in the latest headlines and add to the stockpile of impending disasters that I need to worry about? Or am I going to go to our good and gracious God and say: "Tomorrow is in your hands. You've promised to bring the kingdom of heaven to earth, and I trust you to fulfill that promise. Show me this day what I can do to help."

Here's another verse to tape to your refrigerator and memorize. It tells us in one sentence why we who love God shouldn't worry:

"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future." (Jeremiah 29:11)

Love and good cheer,

time of social distancing. Now, there's a new term none of us will soon forget.

There is a team organizing an Outreach Ministry for those who are homebound during the pandemic and need groceries, prescriptions or other necessities. They are also available to offer prayer, counsel, lend a listening ear by phone, and give rides to appointments. You can get all the information on lpcp.net.

CFC will also be closed until April 19, but that could extend longer too. Pat will be watching all the guidelines carefully and only open once it is safe to do so. Go to center4children.com for all the latest updates.

For now, the Men's Mission Mexico homebuilding trip is still on for May and the trip to the Dominican Republic is still on for June. Stay tuned. . . .

Mary Wilson is hoping to be able to have the Project Dominicana Tea Party and Silent Auction on Saturday April 25 from 1:00-4:00 PM at the "T" Room in Montrose. Proceeds go toward building and medical supplies for the DR Trip. Reservations are required so contact Mary Wilson if you'd like to attend or if you have something wonderful to donate to the silent auction. If the event will be cancelled, that announcement will be on the website and weekly email.

Now for some happy news! The Stained-Glass Window matching campaign is going beautifully! We have received $18,180 so far, but that's only 43% of what is needed of the $42,000 goal to refurbish the eight rectangular windows in the Sanctuary. The campaign will go through the end of April, and the panes are already being removed for the restoration process. Did you know the first donor was Grace Koopmans, of Koopmans Hall fame? She started attending LCPC in 1939 and credits our church to a miracle of healing she received here. She is now 100 years old!

Thank you, Phil Van Horn and Greg Perkins, for the great closet clean out of 2020! They have hauled away many dumpsters full of paper, chairs, and old equipment. They have also found a great many treasures, like the stained-glass window brochures that describe each window in detail.

The annual Rummage Sale raised about $2000 for the Casa Mission Trip. Thank you, Jerry White, Josh, Austin Granier, Jane Anthony, Phil and Lecia Van Horn, and Terry Long and for the long hours and hard work you put into making it a success. Unfortunately, the Casa Spring Break Mission trip had to be cancelled but they are planning to reschedule as soon as they are able.

Noel Collins is hoping to re-establish and direct a new Cathedral Bell Choir. If you are interested in joining the bells, please contact Noel at noeljazzcollins@verizon.net. He's open to your input and ideas too!

Once PEAK dinner starts back up, you'll notice prices have raised to $4 for adults and $3 for kids. Seriously, it is still the best deal in town for a scrumptious and nutritious dinner. Thank you, John Arrangio and all our smiling servers and clean-up crew!

CFC is looking for pencil donations. They don't have to be new pencils, but just long enough to wrap a hand around them. You can drop them off after April 19, but call before you drop off your pencils, just to be sure they are open.

Keep washing those hands well, be creative in keeping busy during this month, be kind, keep smiling, keep praying, help someone in need if you're able, and remember that God is our refuge and strength. He is Risen Indeed, even during a pandemic. Talk to you next month.

What a difference a month makes, huh? One minute we're one big cozy church family, and the next minute we're hunkered down at home, staying six feet away from each other when out of our homes, constantly washing our hands, and wondering if we have enough toilet paper at home.

Per the "Safer at Home" emergency order, we have cancelled all Sunday and Easter services, events, youth and children's activities, and PEAK through April 19. We are offering a pre-recorded worship service each week that is available to watch on YouTube. If we can't be together, we can at least enjoy our pastors, musicians and singers each week in the comfort of our own homes.

We're utilizing all our communication capabilities – the website, emails, Facebook and Instagram – to keep you up to date on all the opportunities we might be offering to help everyone get through this difficult time. We have that great new Shelby directory, so give your friends a call or shoot them a text to check up on them. It's always nice to hear a friendly voice during this

Dear Friends,

As I write this letter, I am hopeful that the spread of the Covid-19 virus has passed the worst stage and that you are all well and safe! It has been a challenging and frightening time for many of us and hard choices had to be made and may still be in process.

Thankfully, we have a Savior who loves us and wants the best for us, especially in the hard times. He is sovereign! We lift up each other, our neighbors, our country, and the world during such times and hope that we are representing our beloved Lord in all that we do and say.

As always, your Deacons are here to help with a warm smile (no hugging right now), a meal, a ride to the doctor or the grocery store, whatever we can do to make life easier or better for our congregation and neighbors. We have a food pantry and can offer temporary financial assistance with urgent bills or needs. We are available to talk, pray and laugh with you, just ask. If you know of someone who needs help, please reach out to us. We live to serve our Lord through service to his people.

With Love in Christ,
Kerry Milbrodt

While we may be a bit holed up in our homes at the time of writing this, we have great hopes that by the time Summer rolls around we'll be able to jump into programming full force! So, we wanted to take this opportunity to give you a glimpse at what to look forward to in just a few short months. Obviously, all is subject to change at any time.

BREAKAWAY SUMMER KICKOFF JUNE 11

Every year, we get Summer kicked off with a huge, eight-hour long event that includes everything from trampoline parks, to catered Chipotle, to huge raffle prizes and renting out an entire ice rink. This year is no different, and we have lots of new surprises in view! We hope you'll mark your calendar for this giant abide event.

DOMINICAN MISSION TRIP JUNE 13 - 24

We have every intention of still taking our annual trip to the Dominican Republic, and this year will be an awesome opportunity for us to help a community who have likely also been affected by the virus. We'll be helping to build a house and students will be able to learn valuable life skills and grow in their faith. Sign up ASAP!

MOUNT HERMON HIGH SCHOOL SUMMER CAMP JULY 19 - 25

We're attending a week of camp this year that has never before been offered to high schoolers, and we can't wait! Mount Hermon's theme this year is about how in Jesus, we have life abundantly. From Mount Hermon: "Life can be really difficult. Sometimes we feel that life is empty, yet Jesus said that He came so that we would have LIFE abundantly. He never promised it would be easy, or that we'd always be happy. He warned us that in this world, we will have trouble. But He also promised that we should TAKE HEART, because He Himself has overcome the world. Following Jesus isn't the easiest thing, but it is the best thing."

Registration opens April 1st at abidestudentmin.com/mounthermon.

CAMPUS BY THE SEA JR HIGH SUMMER CAMP JULY 30 - AUGUST 3

Ahhhh... imagine going to Catalina Island for a short week and enjoying our own private cove, where you get to snorkel, paddleboard, kayak, worship, swim and go. You may think we're talking about some sort of luxurious getaway... but we're actually talking about a camp for jr highers! This year we're saving one of the best for last and heading to Catalina at the beginning of August. Registration opens May 1st at abidestudentmin.com/cbs.

If you need any inspiration during this difficult COVID-19 season, head to abidestudentmin.com where we have a worship playlist and a free 25-day devotional you can download!

Remember: our God sees, knows, and cares for us far more than we could imagine.

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God. For as we share abundantly in Christ's sufferings, so through Christ we share abundantly in comfort too. -2 Corinthians 1:3-5

CFC FAITH UPDATE

During the month of March, we began looking at the last week of Jesus' life, leading up to his death on the cross and His amazing resurrection. I really enjoyed looking at events with all the different age groups at CFC like Jesus washing the disciples' feet, the Last Supper, and Jesus' time of prayer in the Garden of Gethsemane. I was really impressed with how the children of CFC listened and made connections between how Christ loved and served us and how we can serve one another.

children's Ministries

by Ashley Pollock

Let's start with the obvious. the coronavirus is making it hard to predict what tomorrow will look like, let alone the next month. That said, there is something in April that I can definitely count on — something we can all count on — Easter! Whether life has gotten back to normal by April 12 or social distancing has become the new norm, Easter will come. Because, as Romans 8:38-39 states: "... neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither the present nor the future, nor any powers, neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

Those words are like a balm to my worried soul. Jesus Christ died on the cross. Jesus Christ rose from the dead. Jesus Christ defeated sin and death. Jesus Christ is victorious and He will love me and He will love my children and He will love you for eternity. That doesn't mean life won't get hard or scary, as I think we all know. But it does mean that there will always be something to celebrate. And so, on April 12, no matter what is going on in the world, I hope we can all experience the joy of Christ's resurrection. I hope the bad stuff can fade to the background for a bit and we can focus on the joy of such strength, such love, such grace.

In Christ,
Ashley Pollock

Kids Say The Darndest Things

Ashley: (teaching the Fast Frogs class about Peter's denial) "Jesus still chose Peter to be a leader of the church. Like Peter, we all make bad choices and yet that doesn't stop Jesus from loving us and still having good plans for us."

8-Year-Old: "Plus, Peter only lied like three times. That's nothing."

CFC Heartbeat

What difficult times we have been facing. I am writing this article on March 17, St. Patrick's Day. Tomorrow will be the last day with our doors open at CFC. It makes me sad to write that sentence. It is times like this that make me aware of how much I love my work, how I look forward to seeing your children, you and my staff each work day. My heart is broken that we cannot continue to provide the nurturing child care for your families that the CFC has offered for over 50 years. We will be doing our best to get back to caring for God's children as soon as possible.

I always remind myself in times of trouble that God did not promise us a perfect life or a smooth road ahead of us. In the Bible He gives us lots of examples of rough situations and uneven roads. What I see is His promise to give us His strength to get through these times. We are not alone. Look around, God is putting people and things in your

Grandparents Day

This event has been postponed. Look for a summer opportunity.

Upgrades

The CFC committee and Pat were working on plans for upgrades to the facility. A short list of those included: new air conditioning and heating for classrooms, new rubber matting or turf in the courtyard, new flooring and ceiling tiles in the classrooms and a few other items. Of course these items have been put on hold as we are faithful to our staff during this shut down. We will hold a fundraising effort to replenish our reserves, so that once we are back we can continue to pursue those upgrades. If you would like to make a donation now, please mail a check to the CFC and write donation in the memo. This is totally tax-deductible as it is not going to the general fund of the CFC.

Connection is going to be important during this time since we can't physically be together. If someone is on your heart and mind, reach out with a phone call. We are such an email and text society, but it will be nice to hear the sound of people's voices, so go ahead and call. Let me sound like the older person I hate to admit I am, CALL YOUR MOTHER!

Disaster Preparedness

In the last couple of weeks the CFC has replaced our emergency food and water in case of a disaster. The food has a 25-year shelf life and the water a 50-year shelf life, so your grandkids will be well protected when they come here! We have also purchased bucket toilets for all the classrooms that don't have direct access to a bathroom in case there is an emergency where they can't go out of the classroom. We practice both evacuation and shelter in place drills on a regular basis.

Curacubby

Please remember that you can go into your information on Curacubby to update information like phone numbers, emails, addresses and other information. Spend some time on your child's account and add information that we might need to have. The more we all use this program the more complete all our files will be.

Watch our Facebook page and emails for updates.

May you enjoy lots of snuggles with your children these next weeks, and may you discover fun and new things to do at home. Let us all pray that we get back to our normal lives as soon as possible. Take care and stay well.

Summer Day Camp

Summer Day Camps have become very popular in our area. There are specialty camps, away camps, summer school, and others. I want to tell you a little bit about our summer day camp at CFC. My philosophy and overall theme is "Summers the way they were meant to be." What I mean is that summer is a great time to try new things, and to visit lots of different places around IA, such as museums, amusement parks, and ballgames. It is also a time to go to local parks to play and explore. Lie in the grass and watch clouds go by, have BBQs and have water fights. It is a time to swim, go to the beach and find shells. Summer camp is also a time for arts and crafts, on-campus assemblies, music and cooking! The great news is that CFC day camp allows children to do all these things. Children at the CFC also participate in Vacation Bible School, our Red, White and Blue Parade and other on-campus activities. With all of this going on, who has time for video games and screens? Not us! Candice is already planning a great summer. Our day camp is open from 7:00 AM until 6:00 PM. We can help with local transportation to and from summer schools and other local activities, just check with the office if you need that accommodation. Our fees include all hours between 7:00 AM- 6:00 PM, lunch on Friday, entrance fees for field trips, and activities on campus. You can choose your weeks and days with only a three day per week minimum. You supply the kid, we supply the fun!

No one knows how long the corona virus shut-down will last. Our best guess is that it will continue through Easter (April 12) and probably through the end of the month. We will continue to videotape and post worship services that can be viewed through a link on the church's website: www.lcpc.net.

Our goal is to post the service so it will be available at 9:00 AM every Sunday. Many are tuning in at that time (or at 11:00 AM) so they can stick to their usual worship schedule. But remember: since the services are taped (and not live-streamed), all the ones we have taped are available for viewing. You can visit the church's YouTube channel to scan all the services.

What about Maundy Thursday (April 9) and Good Friday (April 10)? Everyone will be invited to an unusual time of worship on Maundy Thursday, April 9. Starting at 7:00 PM, Andy Wilson will live-stream a simple Communion service on LCPC's Facebook page. Everyone will be invited to participate remotely by sharing the bread and grape juice or wine at their own dinner tables at home. Watch for details. We will tape a Good Friday service – and we may even roll out the tombstone – it could take on new significance for some in this time when we feel trapped at home!

What about Easter? (April 12)? Of course we will tape and post a service to celebrate the Lord's resurrection. But like many churches around the world, we are contemplating having a live Easter celebration on the first Sunday that we return to the sanctuary. We're still talking and praying about what the service will look like, but you can count on this: We will have a huge, Christ-centered celebration on that happy day – whenever it may be!

Until then please tell everyone you know about the uplifting services available at www.lcpc.net every Sunday morning – and really, anytime, anywhere there's an internet connection.

THINGS TO CONTEMPLATE DURING THE CORONA SHUTDOWN

By Andy Wilson

What does it mean to be the church when you can't worship together? Or even congregate to throw pies at your staff? Two random thoughts come to mind:

IT MEANS WE DON'T STOP REACHING OUT

Unless we've been hard hit ourselves, our instinct in a time like this is to ask: How can I help? Many in our congregation quickly rallied, mostly through emails and teleconference calls, to create a web-based neighborhood outreach. CV Together was launched in about a week. Already more than 30 people (including our Deacons) have volunteered. We're ready and able to help our neighbors through the corona crisis. (Click the "CV Together" banner for details on how to volunteer, donate or seek help).

IT MEANS THINKING CREATIVELY ABOUT OUR ONLINE PRESENCE

One of our core convictions as God-lovers is that the Lord is constantly working through evil to bring about good. One place where we clearly see the Spirit working is on the web. As Christians all over the planet are ramping up their digital communication platforms so they can keep worshipping and reaching out (as we're doing), the Lord is claiming vast tracts of real estate. Right now that process is often messy and painful. Our "virtual worship," in particular, sometimes feels woefully inadequate. We miss each other! But here's the thing: On the other side of this crisis, the Church worldwide is going to have a way bigger online presence and influence.

Church family: This is a huge moment for us. We've never had a bigger, riper opportunity to share what God is doing in our midst or expose them to the good news about Jesus. So let's all follow the movement of the Spirit by letting our friends know about our online worship services. Direct them to lcpc.net and encourage them to watch our Sunday services.
