THE LOS ANGELES CLARINET CHOIR RETURNS!

On Saturday, November 16, at 7:00 PM in the Sanctuary, the Los Angeles Clarinet Choir will launch its 15th Anniversary season where it all began on September 18, 2005! Since then, the LACC has achieved international recognition having been invited to perform at international Clarinet-Fests 2007 in Vancouver, BC, 2010 in Austin, 2011 in Los Angeles, 2017 in Orlando, and 2019 in Knoxville plus giving concerts at colleges, universities, high schools, churches, and retirement communities in and around Southern California. Two members of the original group are still performing with the LACC including our own Don Gross on contrabass clarinet.

The program will include an arrangement for clarinet choir of Johannes Brahms Serenade No. 2, and original works for clarinet choir by contemporary composers on themes from Japan, Czechoslovakia, Spain, and Africa.

Please welcome the Los Angeles Clarinet Choir back to LCPC!

ALTERNATIVE GIFT FAIR

The Alternative Gift Fair is coming! Watch the Sunday Bulletins and all-church weekly emails for the specific date (still being nailed down).

Between and after services in Koopmans Hall there will be beautiful handcrafts available for purchase. They are created by artisans of poor communities worldwide, and imported by Heavenly Treasures, a non-profit micro-enterprise run by missionaries.

In addition, we will be featuring donation opportunities to benefit poverty-stricken folks all over the world through Church World Service. Donations to provide mosquito nets, chickens, or goats can be given in someone's name to help out poor households. Gift cards will be provided to give to your loved one.

Think about with whom you might share the love of Christ with this Christmas through craft purchases and donations. See you then!

PASTOR'S LETTER

Dear friends,

In the "Journey With Jesus" group that I lead on Wednesday evenings, we recently explored what it means to be called and sent. I reminded our circle that our wonderful God is a missionary. (The word "missions" actually means "sending.") He's a God who calls and sends:

- He calls and sends Abram (later renamed Abraham) to a new land to establish a new spiritual family.
- He calls and sends that family, Israel, to be a blessing to the nations.
- He calls and sends Moses to lead his enslaved people out of Egypt.
- He calls and sends his only begotten Son Jesus to take away sin and establish God's reign.
- Jesus calls and sends his disciples out to heal the sick and proclaim the coming of God's Kingdom.
- After Jesus' ascension, the Father and the Son send the Holy Spirit to the Church.
- And the Holy Spirit then calls and sends the Church onto the mission field to continue the work that Jesus began.

Like the Blues Brothers, all Christians are "on a mission from God."

That last point was the key theme of last month's all-church retreat. We all agreed that the challenges we face often seem daunting. Here in La La Land we're working on hard ground. But, as I reminded everyone at our closing worship service, we take heart in the promises of God. The harvest has already been prepared. Moreover, we go out in the power of the Spirit. So we can be sure God's fire will fall when we respond to his call!

During our time in Big Bear, we soaked up a lot of good teaching from Doug Schaupp. Doug heads up evangelism for InterVarsity Christian Fellowship. One insight he offered was that in the Gospels we don't see Jesus conducting "question and answer" sessions. He mostly conducts "question and question" sessions. He inspires and provokes interest in the Kingdom by asking questions that penetrate people's hearts.

A related insight was that to influence people and nudge them closer to the Lord, we need to be curiosity stokers. We need to inspire and invigorate people to think in new ways about the things of God.

I think the most important insight came when Doug conducted a simple show-of-hands survey. He outlined four skills or strengths that are essential in bringing people to Christ. Among the 120 or so that were present, about 1/3 of us raised our hand for each of the first three choices. Only one person raised his hand for the final choice – the one that involves "closing the deal" by inviting a person to make a decision to repent and receive Jesus as Lord and Savior.

I wasn't surprised at that result. It confirmed what many of us already know about LCPC. We're strong in many areas of discipleship. We love it when new people join us, and we want to our friends and neighbors who don't know the Lord to encounter him and receive new life in his name. But we're not good at closing the deal. Even when people seem ripe and ready for the harvest, we just don't know how to follow through.

The good news is that we were bothered by those survey results. In our small group gatherings at the retreat people said things like this: "We're a missions church! We all need to get better at this!" By the end of Saturday evening it was very clear that most of us were motivated to change and grow.

In short, we left Big Bear determined to be more prayerful, more deliberate, and more courageous in our witness for Christ.

May the Spirit throw fuel on the fire that was sparked in Big Bear. May He fill us with love for those who don't know the Lord and make us more determined each day to bring others with us into the Kingdom.

Love and good cheer,

Andy Wilson

CFC FAITH UPDATE

As we enter the month of Thanksgiving, I look forward to talking with the children of CFC about the gifts God has given us. Every year I am greatly amused, inspired, and even convicted by the gifts they are grateful for. I am also a huge fan of the annual handprint turkey.

As my daughter gets older (she's 4 now), I am more and more grateful for the community she's found at CFC. What a wonderful group of teachers and families we have here! Thank you for being a part of that community! I look forward to seeing you all at the CFC Thanksgiving Feast.

Join the Conversations! We meet once or twice a month on Sunday afternoons at the home of Nancy Coler to discuss the week's sermon in a peaceful and relaxed atmosphere. Our group is small but mighty. Both services are represented and new friendships are being formed. All are welcome!

This month we'll meet on November 10 only. Arrive at 4:30 PM, and we'll be finished by 6:00 PM. For more information, please call Nancy Coler at (626) 755-1880.

FALL PRAYER LIST AND OUR NEW INTERN!

Just a few weeks ago, we were able to take a group of around 20 students to our All-Church Retreat (photo below) where they heard from the youth speaker, Kelsey Paterson, who is the Director of Youth and Young Adult Ministries at Mount Hermon, where we go for high school Summer Camp. Kelsey was fantastic, and she taught our students about who we are as the body of Christ, and the vital call we all have to pull others into the Kingdom of God.

We now head into our fall programming united in our vision to see more and more new students coming to Abide, and excited about our students' desire to bring their friends! We would love if you could be praying for us as we begin our new teaching series on our pasts. We'll be talking about the weight of our past, the cost of our past, and how God can take even the most difficult parts of our past and make trophies of them, because He's the Redeemer of all things.

We ask that you'd be praying for students to deeply understand the depth of Jesus' love for them as they grapple with understanding life's most difficult topics: pain, suffering, sin, and God's response to it all. We want our students to know that no matter what they've done and faced, they can take it to our Lord and He'll love them as intimately as He ever has.

Our other big update is that we have a new intern in Abide, Jane Anthony! Jane comes to us from Lake Tahoe where she grew up before moving to Pasadena in the fall of 2018. She quickly connected with our Young Adult group last fall, and began helping with our Jr. High meetings on Wednesday evenings. She then worked at Mount Hermon this last Summer and as it became clear that she would be returning to Pasadena to continue her studies at Pasadena City College, we quickly jumped on the opportunity to bring her on board in an official capacity at Abide. We're so thankful for Jane and for the sweet, humble, intelligent energy she brings to our team. Please pray for her as she learns the ropes of ministry and seeks the Lord's will as she moves forward in her calling!

—Josh

ANNOUNCING JONATHAN SAMUEL ADAMS!

Dear Friends,
Jonathan Samuel Adams was born on Monday, October 7, (7 lbs and 20 in). Everyone is happy and healthy, with Jonathan enjoying a bit more rest than his parents. Daniel is mesmerized by Jonathan — just as one can get lost staring at the flame of a campfire. Time seems to stop when Daniel gazes at Jonathan. Marie is amazed by the energy that fills her each time she feeds Jonathan, even when moments earlier she was barely pulling herself out of bed!

The names we've chosen have special significance for us:

Jonathan: "Gift of Yahweh," or "Yahweh has given." The name expresses how Jonathan is a gift to us that God has graciously given. The Jonathan of Scripture was a man of incredible courage and humility, and we pray our Jonathan will one day display the same courage and humility.

Samuel: "One who is heard by God." The name Samuel comes from the story in the Bible where Hannah prayed for a child, and God heard her prayer. She dedicated Samuel to God, and he became known as one who listened to God's voice, even as a child. We worship a God who hears us when we call to him, and we hope our son will hear God's voice just as Samuel did.

In addition, both these names honor our brothers.

Marie is on maternity leave until January, and Daniel continues his pastoral position at our church. Jonathan is a sweet delight, and we are happily discovering life as a family of three.

We are so thankful for the supportive and nurturing community surrounding us!

Love,
Daniel & Marie

LEE'S LATEST

"Be very careful, then, how you live — not as unwise but as wise, making the most of every opportunity, because the days are evil." (Ephesians 5:15-16)

As we begin our final descent into the holiday season, we start to take stock of the year. We begin to think about gratitude, family, blessings, and how our waist bands feel a little tighter — must be the dryer. In Ephesians, Paul says that we should live wisely, and by that he means that we shouldn't waste our time. We should make the most of every opportunity. If you read further, you'll see he is talking about our relationships.

How can we be wise in our relationships this holiday season? Perhaps we should forgive? Perhaps we should practice gratitude? There are many things we can do, but the most important thing is that we do them now. Make the most of the opportunity of this season. Don't let "Be very careful, then, how you live — not as unwise but as wise, making the most of every opportunity because..." Christmas may pass you by without making amends, extending forgiveness, or just telling someone how much they mean to you.

SAVE THE DATE FOR SOME FESTIVE CHRISTMAS TUNES

The entire community is invited to the LCPC Cruisers' annual Christmas celebration, Tuesday, December 3, at 7:30 PM in the Sanctuary. This year's fete will feature Monday@JoJo's, a women's vocal group. These ladies sing pop, jazz and standards for weddings, parties, charity events and senior living facilities all over Southern California, and our own Sharon Valdez and Shawn Kelly are members. You may remember their performance at our Cathedral Choir concert last year.

Bring some friends and get a jump on your Christmas spirit at this festive celebration that will include some sing-along carols. See you there!

Happy November, everyone! I am writing this just after returning from the All-Church Retreat which I so enjoyed sharing with my church family and especially with my daughter, Charlie. It was her first retreat, first campfire, first giant pine cone, and what a time she had! She is already asking if we can go back. Thank you so much to everyone who worked so hard to put it on!

Even though there was delightfully cool weather up at the retreat and some beautiful fall leaves, I am still having a hard time wrapping my mind around the fact that the holiday season is upon us! Thanksgiving is coming! Carter's first birthday is coming! Christmas is coming! And, two of our favorite events from last year are coming back: the World Vision Giving Tree and the inter-generational Lego Fest and Feast!

The World Vision "Giving Tree" begins November 17 and in case you forget, the big Christmas in the Narthex will remind you! The tree will be full of paper ornaments and each ornament will list an item, or portion of an item, from the World Vision Christmas catalog. World Vision is a Christian organization helping children, families, and their communities overcome poverty and injustice.

The catalog allows people to gift those in need both in the United States and around the world with important things like Bibles, mosquito nets, medicine, and even farm animals! Larger gifts (such as a cow or a well) can be expensive, but the tree will include ornaments that allow you to put money toward a larger item.

For example, people can choose to put $15 toward buying a dairy cow for a family living in poverty. In doing so, you are helping that family move towards having a sustainable source of income by selling dairy products. If you choose an ornament, please write a check for the amount listed and turn in both the ornament and the check to LCPC by December 15.

Checks should be made out to LCPC and we ask that you please put "Word Vision" and the item number listed on the ornament on your check's memo line. You can turn them into the church office or place them in the offering plate on Sunday morning. Last year's Giving Tree was a success because of your generosity. Thank you for sharing what you can!

I missed last year's Lego Fest and Feast because I was in the hospital having my precious baby boy. But I heard it was an evening of fun, laughter, and creativity and I can't wait to participate this year. So please join me on Thursday, November 14, from 6:00 -8:00 PM in Koopmans Hall. We will be serving dinner and then dividing up into teams for a Lego competition. Each team will be given a Bible scene to create with their Legos. Teams will have 40 minutes to design and create their scene. Then teams will be able to check out the other Lego creations over a delicious dessert.

Our judges will choose the best depiction of a Biblical scene and prizes will be awarded to the members of the winning team. This event is for all ages, so whether you play with Legos every day or having touched one in decades, please join us for an evening of food, fellowship and, of course, an engineering challenge! RSVP to: ashley@lcpc.net by November 10.

Happy "Giving Thanks" month everyone! I am so thankful for my church family and for the prayers that have carried my own little family through the past year.

In Christ,
Ashley Pollock

Can you smell the wonderful aroma of pumpkin and turkey, the fallen leaves, and the smoke from a cozy fire? I am so excited to celebrate Thanksgiving and incorporate those smells and flavors into the day and the meal. I love to host Thanksgiving Day and share in gratitude for all the wonderful gifts our God has bestowed on me, my family, and friends.

We Deacons are hosting a Thanksgiving feast too! It will be on Sunday, November 17, right after the one 9:00 AM service, featuring a brunch of delicious strata and ending with our famous LCPC pumpkin dump cake. Please think about who you will invite to this lovely and warm tradition at LCPC.

Our all-church retreat in Big Bear in October, with the theme: All-In, was a wonderful time to learn about our personal and corporate strengths and challenges in becoming and making Jesus-followers, and in looking outward to the world around us. Our speaker, Doug Schaupp, gave us great insight into ways we can engage with those who have yet to meet Jesus.

One of those ways is to actually bring people to church and share why you go, perhaps to soak in the grace of God and know peace in the knowledge of the gift He has given us and to all people – Jesus.

If we don't tell people about him, how will they ever know? We do not have to hold conventions or speak to huge groups of people. One person sharing his or her story of God's love and influence in their life can make all the difference to someone who is seeking Him. The fields are ripe for the harvest!

If you were not able to attend the retreat, have a talk with someone who did and hear their thoughts and insights about the message and mission. I found it very inspiring and have resolved to ask the Holy Spirit to fill me when those God Moments come along, as I know they will.

Blessings,
Kerry Milbrodt

Kids Say The Darndest Things

Ashley: (at the All Church Retreat) "Let's go around and share our age and our favorite food."

4-Year-Old: (completely straight faced) "19 years old. Rotten eggs."

November is the month for giving thanks, and there is so much to be thankful for here at LCPC! Take a moment this month to notice all the blessings we have as being part of this amazing church family!

It is also that glorious time of year when we gain an extra hour of sleep, courtesy of Daylight Saving Time ending! Don't forget to set your clocks back before you go to bed on Saturday, November 2, because the magical transformation will happen at 2:00 AM Sunday, November 3, while you are snoozing away.

It seems like PEAK classes just started back up, but it's almost time for PEAK to go on holiday break. Here's the November run down: Creative Bible Journaling will have its monthly class in the Narthex on November 6, along with all the other PEAK classes. November 13 will be regular PEAK schedule. On November 20, the official last PEAK night, right after dinner our fabulous SPARKS will be entertaining us at their annual Talent Show at 6:30 PM in the Sanctuary. You won't want to miss their lively acts!

The Second Annual Lego Night is Thursday, November 14, from 6:00-8:00 PM in Koopmans. This intergenerational event is for everyone because we all know adults enjoy Legos just as much as kids! Dinner will be served, and then teams will create Bible scenes out of Legos, and admire the masterpieces over a delicious dessert. RSVP to Ashley@lcp.net.

Sunday, November 17, we'll celebrate Dedication Sunday. There's a single service at 9:00 AM and don't forget to bring your Estimate of Giving cards for 2020 offering your time, talents, and treasures! Following the service, there will be a delectable brunch prepared and served by our hard-working Deacons. We hope you will join us!

Children's Ministries will be starting their Christmas service project, the World Vision "Giving Tree," on November 17. Look for the Christmas tree in the Narthex. By choosing an ornament off the tree, you commit to provide the money for a gift out of the World Vision gift catalog for a family in need.

Each Sunday in December we have a tradition for a family, couple, or group of friends to light the Advent Candles at each service. There's a short reading that can be divided up among the group and then the lighting of the candles – that's it! If you're interested, email Michele Fernandez at: fern7@sbcglobal.net. If you have a knack for decorating, we're also looking for creative people to decorate the Sanctuary for Christmas. Contact Nancy Coler at: nancoler@gmail.com if you'd like to deck our halls!

If you missed the All In Church Retreat, I hope you're able to attend one in the future because it was phenomenal! The planning committee of Ed and Shirley Carlson, Kristy Hicks, Frances Mencia, Austin Granier and Josh Horton did a spectacular job organizing the weekend, and the Fellowship Ministry hosted an epic Decades Dance Party. It was truly a wonderful weekend!

Guests really went "All In" with costumes from their favorite decade, but the Cary family was totally awesome in their 80s attire and Greg Cary took 1st place as the spitting image of Slash from Guns and Roses! Pastor Andy was rocking a 70s outfit and had an uncanny resemblance to Howard Stern and his bride Mary was the cutest hippie you've ever seen. They took 2nd place. Craig Carlson sported a long ponytail in his heavy metal outfit that took 3rd place.

Thank you to Bill and Sidney Schreiner for graciously donating a weekend at their Big Bear Cabin as the Grand Prize to be raffled off for all the game winners. The Blessings had quite a lucky streak as Michelle won the 2nd place prize of a gift basket and Dan won the cabin in Big Bear. I'm sure they bought Lotto tickets on the drive home.

DJ Austin Granier had the crowd dancing like no one's business. The energetic youth could have raised the roof on the Cedar Chapel! Holly Nutting was our hula hoop champion, and everyone enjoyed rousing games of music trivia, Name that Tune, and Scripture Scramble.

The retreat speakers Doug Schaupp and Kelsey Paterson were engaging, inspiring, and gave us practical and important tips on how to share our faith and bring others into God's Kingdom. We've got some serious work to do LCPC! We're great seed planters, but we're not going back in for the harvest! Stay tuned for lessons in our future on how we can improve this.

A big welcome to Irina Panasyuk, our new LCPC staff member! She will be orchestrating technology, social media, and construction projects around the campus pertaining to our Vision 2020 strategic plan. Make sure to introduce yourself!

Congratulations to Tyler Carlson, Katie Clem, and Amy Forster for being chosen for the CVHS Homecoming Court and to Brock Cary for his lead role in CV's production of Antigone. We are so proud of the awesome and talented kids we have at LCPC!

Thank you to everyone who helped at the All Church Work Party last month. We made some serious progress behind the stage in Koopmans, outside in our planters, and in the underground garages. It takes a village to keep this place looking pristine.

Baker extraordinaire Christine Marks came across some Abide students gathered after PEAK and she happened to have a few cupcakes with her. As she passed them out, Jake Weingarten said, "Mrs. Marks, you're like lady Jesus!" Well, if that's not the highest compliment!

Count your blessings and thank God for them during this month of Thanksgiving! See you next month.

Director's Corner

On November 9, my youngest child Riley will be marrying David Dadzie at what will be a wonderful ceremony in San Clemente. This is my last child to get married, another mark in time of how our lives have changed. She was just 2 years old when I became the Director of the CFC. I remember her coming to the Thanksgiving Feast, Christmas Craft Night, Daddy and Me Days, and thinking that she would be my little girl forever.

As this change in her life happens, I wonder as a parent, did I prepare her enough? Did I let her struggle enough to learn how to persevere when marriage gets tough? Did I teach her to speak her mind with kindness so that she is an equal partner in this relationship? Did I model the idea of compromise and an ability to be to be flexible as life takes on twists and turns? Did I impress upon her to turn to God and to put Him at the Center of this relationship?

I hope so. I hope I was intentional enough during the years she was under my house teaching her these things. During this month of Thanksgiving, I am thankful for the time Bob and I had with our children. I hope that as their families grow, they too will be intentional about their parenting. Not just hoping to get through the day, but seeing the long game.

I am thankful that you allow us to be a part of your family during this time of intensive parenting. It is not easy, but I can tell by watching your children in our classrooms, on our playgrounds, and as they walk in and out of our office that you are raising wonderful children to become amazing adults. Keep up the good work!

Communication With You

We try to get information out to parents in a variety of ways, not to bombard you, but so that you will be sure not to miss any events, ideas, or news that you might need.

- Website: www.Center4Children.com. Here you can find an up-to-date menu, forms for medicine, school calendar, newsletters, parent handbook, and other helpful information. Use it as a resource tool.
- Your Parent File: In your child's class there's a parent file. Here we place our two monthly newsletters, billing information, scholastic newsletter, invitations, and other types of flyers and information. Please check your parent file at least weekly.
- Emails: We send out email messages about once a month. Usually it's about a special event that is coming up that we don't want you to miss. If you are not getting our emails, please check your spam or junk folder. If we aren't there, then please check with Teri to see if we have a good email address for your family. We are happy to add as many email addresses as you would like.
- Facebook: We love to post pictures of what is going on, reminders of upcoming events, parent blogs, family events in our community, and some things just for fun. Be sure to follow us. It is the quickest way to get up to date information to you.

- Curracubby: This is where you can look up your account, where you get billed, and where you can pay your tuition. If you need help with Curracubby, Kristin is your person. She is in the office after 4:30 PM each day.

We hope all these means of communication help you feel more connected to our program. And don't forget you can call us or stop by the office to talk to us any day and have a jelly bean on me!

Thanksgiving Feast

During the week of our Thanksgiving Feast you can smell Thanksgiving in the air. Each classroom prepares one part of our feast and then on Thursday, November 21, we come together in Koopmans Hall for dinner as one big CFC family. The hall will be decorated with your child's artwork and we will be thankful together. We will be asking you to bring in the item assigned to your classroom like a can of pumpkin pie mix or rolls, etc. Look for information in your child's room and we look forward to seeing you then.

Lego Week

The week of November 12 (remember, we're closed on Veterans Day) we will be having Lego Week. We will have Legos out on all our yards. Classrooms will have Lego tables where children can keep their creations intact for the week and add to them every day. On Thursday, November 14, Ashley will be providing a Lego family night. Look for details on that night on her page in this newsletter. There is no GUSD the next day, so come have a good time. And please note that during Lego week we are having Eggo waffles for breakfast, I love a good rhyme!

CFC and GUSD Closed

November 15 is a "no student" day for GUSD. We will open for all school age children on that day. Please have your children in 1st – 6th grade bring a lunch. GUSD elementary schools will be closed from November 25-29 for Thanksgiving week. CFC will be open full days for your children from Monday – Wednesday of that week. Children in 1st – 6th grade need to bring a lunch. We will be closed on Thanksgiving Day and the following Friday. The CFC and GUSD will also be closed for Veterans Day on Monday, November 11.

WORSHIP SCHEDULE FOR NOVEMBER

NEW SONG WORSHIP (CONTEMPORARY), SUNDAYS AT 9:00 AM

SERVICE OF PRAISE (CLASSIC), SUNDAYS AT 11:00 AM

Our All In sermon series comes to a close in November. Our study of the early Church in The Acts of the Apostles has helped us see God's mission in a new light. In these next four weeks, we'll focus on unity in the church, how to share the Gospel in love, how to speak the Gospel in a culture that's different than our own, and the power of love the binds the Church together. We hope you will be praying that God will use you to reach out beyond the walls of the Church to impact the world around you.
